

Registering with the Division
Complying with F.A.C. Rule 61-20.003

Florida Administrative Code Rule 61-20.003 requires a corporation, association or other organization or entity which engages in, or is desirous of engaging in, the business of community association management to register with the Division and employ only licensed persons in the direct provision of community management services. Further, an entity may not conduct association management business or use its name in the conduct of its business without first registering with the Division.

Community Associations may not be charged a fee to register with the Division, and once registered, no renewal of the registration is required. The registration is deemed valid unless suspended or revoked. Community associations, officers or licensed personnel do have a perpetual duty to notify the Division of any change of address within 60 days of the change.
